

Driving force Why do rainy days get us down? Maybe it's because we're tired of looking like the Gorton's Fisherman. Give the slicker a rest and choose a raincoat that's lightweight and lined, with a flattering cropped shape. Jacket and shorts by Miu Miu

Fishing for compliments The bonus of the athletic trend is being able to wear comfortable clothes without resorting to sweats. Team a formfitting turtleneck with sleek riding pants. If you need an extra layer, you can throw something on without bulking up. Fishing vest by Burberry London. Sweater, $128, by Marc by Marc Jacobs. Pants, $195, by Moncler

Strike a balance The easiest way to update your wardrobe: Pair the unexpected, like this sweet floral dress with a rugged farm jacket and chunky boots. Jacket, $334, by Barbour. Dress by Paul Smith. Boots, $305, by Filson

Head honcho For fun (and warmth) this fall, start with a hat and dress down. A matter-of-fact fabric like felt is feminine in a pastel color and even sweeter with a peasant top and jeans. Hat, $198, by Jennifer Hoertz. Shirt, $158, by Marc by Marc Jacobs. Necklaces by Sage and Sonya Ooten